First Baptist Revival Attracts Large Crowds

Large crowds continue to attend the revival services being conducted this and next week at the local Baptist Church. Rev. R. L. Rayburn, a talented orator and evangelist from St. Louis, has charge of the services with the able assistance of R. L. Cooper of Mississippi, who is in charge of the gospel singing.

Attention is also called to the day services conducted each weekday morning in the homes from 9:30 to 10:00 o'clock in the form of cottage prayer meetings, and each afternoon at the church from 2:30 to 3:00 o'clock with Rev. Rayburn in charge. Prayer services are also conducted from 7 o'clock to 7:30 each evening for men and for young women. Rev. Garrison is leader for the men's services, Mrs. Garrison for the young women.

Sermons for the coming nights of the week as announced Wednesday evening are as follows:

Thursday night—"From What Source Have We Our Present Bible, and Was There Ever Another?"

Friday night—"Where Are The Dead?"

Saturday night—"Shall We Advance or Retreat?"

Sunday morning—"The Power of Christ To Save."

Sunday afternoon, 3 o'clock—"The Home."

Sunday night—"One Day's Journey Without Christ."

The public cordially invited to attend these services.

Bulldogs to Kennett for Season's Semifinal Game

The Bulldogs go to Kennett Friday afternoon for the last out town game of the year and their final game preceding the annual Turkey Day game which will be played here November 30th. The game with Kennett is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

According to the dope the Kennett team is strong and full of possibilities for upsetting the dogs. They did just that when they held the Poplar Bluff Mules down to a one touchdown victory. When they played the New Madrid boys they seemed lucky to win out by the one touchdown margin which they managed.

The Bulldogs have won six games and lost two during the present season and are capable of winning from most of the teams in this section. This is not a prediction of victory against the Kennett team but the writer's conclusions drawn after witnessing the past eight games that the Bulldogs.

State Highway to Place Unemployed to Work

Jefferson City, Nov. 14.—Definite action, taken by the Missouri State Highway Commission today, will place part of an additional 15,000 unemployed to work immediately upon receipt of approval for projects under a new $90,000,000 federal highway program, made public Monday by the Bureau of Public Roads, Scott Wilson, chairman, said. This means that, if estimated state and federal funds are made available, about 40,000 men will be provided with work through highway activity this winter.

A meeting of all bureau chiefs and division engineers will be held tomorrow for the purpose of starting work under the indicated $4,000,000 allotment for the new classification to be spent principally on the farm-to-market roads in each county.

The new allotment is a direct relief measure, and under tentative rules practically the entire amount will be expended for labor. Construction activity will be supervised by maintenance forces of the Commission and includes widening, grading, clearing of right-of-way, general maintenance and construction. Labor will be recruited from the relief and unemployed lists. An average of about $35,000 will be allotted in each county, and appropriated according to relief needs.

Approximately 25,000 men have been engaged in highway construction.

Federal Aid For Roads and Streets

All counties and cities in the State may obtain federal funds for financing roads or streets. In many cases it is possible to obtain these improvements free of charge to the county or city by applying to the State Highway Commission which will have available over $14,000,000 of federal funds for distribution throughout the State. Over $5,000,000 of this will go on farm-to-market roads and over $3,000,000 on city streets, and most of the remainder will be spent on the main highways. If a county can get its roads, on which it desires improvement, designated as supplementary roads or farm-to-market roads by the Highway Commission for improvement, the counties and cities can obtain 100 per cent grant from the Federal Government through the State Highway Commission.

If, however, this cannot be done, it is still possible for counties and cities to obtain 30 per cent of the cost of labor and materials by

Comeback for Dry Laws Near Says Dr. McBride

Dr. F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, who spoke at the First Baptist Church in Sikeston Tuesday evening, declared that "the ultimate solution of the liquor problem is nearer at hand today than at any time in the past."

His basis for this assertion is that the wets have put themselves on the defensive.

"It is up to them now," McBride declared, "to prove that selling liquor will be better than repeal." McBride insisted.

Less than 25 per cent of the total possible vote was secured for repeal, he stated. Drys must be re-educated that alcohol is a habit-forming drug, must go to the polls and vote, must nominate and elect dry legislators and congressmen. Church people will have to assert themselves and get out the vote, Dr. McBride insisted.

Mother's must plant the truth of prohibition in their children's minds, Sunday school, pulpit and public schools must teach the truth about alcohol, he declared.

"Long before prohibition, the speaker declared, racketeers collected money. "You won't find," he predicted, "that lawlessness will stop because of loosening up on the liquor traffic," and quoted figures on arrests in Washington, D. C., to show that the number was mounting since beer had been legalized.

In introducing Dr. McBride, P. A. Tate, state superintendent of the Missouri Anti-Saloon League, said that in Missouri all the dry influence was being thrown toward an adequate local option law.

The W. C. T. U. and the Anti-Saloon League, he declared, can nominate and elect legislators from 87 counties in the state and will do so "if they don't give us a local option bill."

After Dr. McBride's address, he had cards passed through the audience asking for pledges to the Anti-Saloon League's state and national programs, pointing out the urgent need for money now to carry on the fight for the dry cause while the state legislature was in session.

Promised Tax Reduction

Explaining how the 18th amendment came to be repealed, the speaker declared that the administration program offered distinct titles to vote for repeal, in returning the tax on gasoline and of the tax on stock, "when the 18th Amendment is repealed."

Dr. McBride declared he knew it to be a fact that when the dry governor of Colorado went to Washington seeking federal aid for a road across the Rocky Mountains he was told in substance that he had better get in line. In other states where little or no patronage had been distributed, that had an influence on the vote of repeal, McBride insisted.

In order to carry out the promise of President Roosevelt that there will be no one in the United States suffer from cold or hunger this winter, if it is possible to prevent same, from Washington machinery has been started to provide work for four million unemployed by the middle of December that will last until the middle of February, or longer if conditions still exist.

L. F. Tatum, in charge of certain employment, called from Jefferson City, to the Scott County Committee Wednesday evening to know the number of men who could be employed in clearing drainage ditches in Scott county.

The following is the subject of his telegram:

"Presiding Judge of Scott County Court: The Civil Works Administration request information today relative to number of men required in clearing drainage ditches in Scott county. Number of men who can live at home, number of imported men housed locally without cost to Government and number of men you can furnish transportation to and from work. Estimate number of miles of ditches in your county."

In pursuant to this call Judge Leonard McMullin, of the County Court; R. L. Harrison, county engineer; H. C. Watkins, Jr., deputy county clerk; Otto Bugg, and others of the Committee who could be reached, met in Sikeston Wednesday night and after discussing the proposition reported to Jefferson City that 300 men would be required for Scott County and the county would furnish transportation to and from work, that all men would be housed in own homes and no imported labor would be required.

There are approximately 265 miles of drainage ditches in Scott county including a stretch of the Little River drainage in this country.

In pursuant to this call Judge Leonard McMullin, of the County Court; R. L. Harrison, county engineer; H. C. Watkins, Jr., deputy county clerk; Otto Bugg, and others of the Committee who could be reached, met in Sikeston Wednesday night and after discussing the proposition reported to Jefferson City that 300 men would be required for Scott County and the county would furnish transportation to and from work, that all men would be housed in own homes and no imported labor would be required.

Friends of Tom Scott in Cape Girardeau say that his appointment as U. S. marshal will depend upon from what section of the state the appointee for U. S. district attorney comes.

Harry C. Blanton of Sikeston and R. F. Baynes of New Madrid are the outstanding candidates from this section for the district attorney's post, and it is certain if either is appointed from this district Mr. Scott will not get the marshal's position.

However, another strong contender for the district attorney's job comes from Northwest Missouri and if he should be appointed, it is likely Mr. Scott would get the marshal's office. In no case, it is claimed, will both jobs be filled from the same district—Cape Missourian.

High School Announces Basketball Schedule

The Sikeston High School announced today their schedule for the coming basketball season. The only engagements scheduled thus far are doubleheader games or in which both boys and girls teams will play. The Scott-Mississippi County High School Athletic Association chose Sikeston as the host for the 1934 Boys' Tournament with 13 teams scheduled to come here. This tournament will be played in the local gymnasium February 22, 23 and 24 and will replace the annual Washington Birthday Tournament this year. The district girls tournament will be played at Benton,

March 1, 2 and 3. The All-Southeast Missouri Girls' Invitation Tournament will be held here as usual on March 8 and 9.

It is probable that a number of single games will be scheduled for both the Bulldog boys and girls.

The doubleheaders scheduled at the present are as follows:

January 5, Matthews here.

January 12, Charleton there.

January 13, Fruitland boys, Benton girls here.

January 19, Portageville here.

January 26, Chaffee there.

February 2, Charleston here.

February 9, Matthews there.

February 16, Ilmo here.

Secretary of the Interior Ickes today characterized the new $400,000,000 civil work fund as a means for holding back the line of unemployment this winter until major projects under the $3,000,000,000 Public Works Administration can get fully under way.

Addressing the Governors of 20 states, the Mayors of 150 cities and more than 200 other officials, gathered as a relief convention, he told of plans aimed to hire 4,000,000 men until February 1 through allotments under the $400,000,000 fund.

Harry L. Hopkins, the Civil Works Administrator, previously had urged that relief funds be used to pay actual wages for work done in addition to this sum.

Officials crowded in one of the main dining rooms of the Hotel Mayflower applauded both Ickes and Hopkins. They will meet with President Roosevelt at the White House during the late afternoon.

"We intend to go through with this regardless," Hopkins told the officials. "I do not anticipate that anyone will endeavor to inject politics of personal gain into the plan. We do not intend to tolerate such."

The Proposed Wages

Hopkins set minimum wages under his fund for three sub-divisions of the country. These provide that unskilled labor in the Southern zone shall be paid not less than 40 cents with a 45-cent minimum in the Central zone and 50 cents in the North.

Skilled labor which may be necessary on the projects will be paid $1 an hour in the Southern zone $1.10 in the Central zone and $1.20 in the North.

For purposes of determining wage rates, Hopkins, the Civil Works Administrator, outlined the three zones as follows:

Southern—South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Arizona, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico.

Central—Delaware, Tennessee, Maryland, Virginia, Colorado, California, Utah, North Carolina, West Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas, Nevada, Idaho and the District of Columbia.

Northern—Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, New York, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska, Wyoming, Oregon, South Dakota, Idaho, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, North Dakota, Montana and Washington.

The Mitchell-Sharp Co. local dealers for the Chevrolet, report an increase of 46.9 per cent in their sales of new cars and trucks as compared to the same ten months period in 1932. On November 1 they showed a total of 97 new units sold as compared with 66 sold during the same period last year.

It is thought that the 1934 model of the Chevrolet will be announced before the first of the year. The Mitchell-Sharp Co. stated that they will not receive any more 1933 models during the same period last year.

Local Chevrolet Sales Show Big Increase

The Mitchell-Sharp Co., local dealers for the Chevrolet, report an increase of 175 per cent over October, 1932. The total retail sales for the ten month period ending November 1, show 550,816 or an increase of 55.4 per cent over the same period of 1932.

It is thought that the 1934 model of the Chevrolet will be announced before the first of the year. The Mitchell-Sharp Co. stated that they will not receive any more 1933 models during the same period last year.

300 Local Men May Be Used in Ditch Clearing

In order to carry out the promise of President Roosevelt that there will be no one in the United States suffer from cold or hunger this winter, if it is possible to prevent same, from Washington machinery has been started to provide work for four million unemployed by the middle of December that will last until the middle of February, or longer if conditions still exist.

Beginning tomorrow Hopkins said the Public Works Administration would begin turning over to the Civil Works Administration what are known as "border line" projects. These can be started almost at once. No large buildings or bridges or similar projects will be considered.

Referring to the persons left on the relief rolls, which still include about 1,000,000 families, Hopkins explained that "Federal emergency relief funds may be used to pay wages to persons transferred from relief rolls to civil works projects."

"Wherever state and local laws permit," he said, "it is urged that state and local relief funds be similarly used. If this is not possible it is suggested that the funds received from the Federal Emergency Relief Administration be allocated entirely to civil works projects and state and local relief funds be used for direct relief."

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS FROM PARIS APPEAL

Well, goodby to prohibition. It was a failure in every way except one, which was as a goat for all the sins this nation committed during its fitful career.

The beer business, like the old gray mare, is not what it used to be. This may be due in part to a popular conviction that the price is too high and the quality too low.

There is another unfortunate thing about the legislature. It is an oversupply of friends of the farmer and undersupplies of farmers themselves. This, however, is the fault of the farmer. He wants none but town men to represent him.

Milo Reno, the Iowa farm strike leader, denounces Roosevelt as a betrayer of agriculture. Milo evidently sighs for a return to those good old Hoover days. Farm leaders like Milo, who farm the farmer, are the chief obstacle to farm recovery.

The civil service commission at Washington says in effect that small consideration is given to applications from men who are 40 years old or over. It is about that way with appointing powers that are not under civil service. This embargo on men of mature age might receive a merited setback if somebody would organize a militant association among men between the ages of 40 and 65, with all members pledged to vote for no party or patronize no industrial concern which discriminated against them. The fact is, the average man has better judgment and about as much strength from 40 to 60 as from 20 to 40. Nothing could be more cruel or unjust than the way they are crowded out in favor of younger blood. It is going to continue, however, until an organized revolt is staged.

We suggest a school of instruction for the millionaire newspapermen, the captains of industry and leaders of high finance. Unless they can be made to see that the old order, with its oppression, graft and indifference to obligation, has passed, the pillars of their capitalistic temple will be torn away and they will perish amid the rubbish. The people are in an ugly mood. They become more resentful every day at efforts the big interests direct against Roosevelt's efforts to inaugurate a new deal. If this resentment gets beyond restraint in this country, as it did in Russia,

Italy and Germany, the result will be a government of, by and for the under-dog class of this nation, with consequent retribution upon those who contributed so largely to hardships which now grip every class except the aristocracy of wealth.

Another trouble in this country is too much concern for the consumer and too little for the producer. Packers, for instance, refuse to pay the hog processing tax on to the consumer on the ground that the consumer will quit buying if his meat gets any higher. In reality, the present levy would add less than a penny a pound to the retail price of 100 pounds of the bacon and hams on which packers make such huge profits. This is more ham and bacon than the average two families would use in a whole year. Besides, if they objected to paying half a cent a pound more for the meat they could do without it. On the other hand, the action of packers in taking that tax off the price of live hogs means a loss of $1 to $1.50 on every fat hog the farmer produces. Thus, in order to protect consumers from an increase too trivial to consider, the packer is doing a tremendous wrong to the farmer, without whom there would be no business for packers. In reality, however, that powerful interest is striking an undercover blow at the Roosevelt administration. Packers hate it because it is seeking to divide with the farmer some of the profits they piled up under the old order of things. As for the consumer, he has no right to demand that the producer feed and clothe him just for the fun of the thing.

WASHINGTON CURRENT COMMENT

More pressing problems at home have put the foreign war debt matter somewhat into the background. With this attitude of relaxation in the United States, violent comment in England has ceased, as might be expected, especially in view of the fact that the British government has left debt payments out of its budget computations. By the middle of December, another payment will be due. The English and American representatives have come to no agreement respecting the payment of the corpus of the debt, but it appears that before Christmas, Uncle Sam will receive a few millions on account, just to keep the debt good and to avoid a complete default on the part of the debtor. After this there will be more conferences, no doubt. The British war debt is neither very much alive nor completely dead. The situation is such that both sides will probably be contented. At least they will have to be. England is not being pressed. The United States at least has the small satisfaction of knowing that England does not contemplate a complete default and repudiation.

Even though the Eighteenth Amendment is repealed, the old items, good or bad, according to personal view point, will not come back to their entirety. No degree of wetness, it appears, will restore the saloon. The foot rail, the polished bar, the glittering mirrors, and the bar tender with his black moustache and ripe stories, these belong to a time that is dead. How wavy politics will be handled without such adjuncts remains to be seen, but perhaps wavy politics, like everything else, is moving forward to better day.

The twenty-two million visitors at the World's Fair received a Michigan farm as a prize. One of the attendant circumstances gives food for thought. The plot of ground went not to a farmer who was at home and on the job, but to one who was abroad and in search of a little pleasure. It may be that most of us do not realize fully that there may be real profit in a day off now and then, not a day spent in idle worry on the home grounds, but in a journey to scenes that are far enough remote so that both work and worry are forced aside.

Christmas promises to bring an extra measure of good cheer this year. The post master general has directed subordinate postmasters to employ with the fullest degree of liberality as many deserving persons, both male and female, as circumstances may warrant, to handle the holiday rush of business. The pay will be about half a dollar an hour for a day not longer than ten hours. In this instance the Christmas season will prove an agreeable time not only for the recipients of presents, but for the needy messengers of Santa Claus as well.

These Beets Behave

HAVE you ever had the experience of buying fresh beets in the market and having them lose their flavor and color when you cooked them, so that you found yourself serving sickly, tasteless pink beets? There is a way in which you can be sure that your beets will not go back on you, and that is by buying them in cans.

Color Counts

For the beets put up in sanitary enamel lined cans always keep their color and flavor, when heated, because they were picked at the moment of prime ripeness and the oxygen was exhausted from them before they were canned. Diced in pieces, sliced or whole, all canned beets can be counted upon to present just as good an appearance as the pampered and more expensive tiny rosebud beets used in the following recipe.

Vegetable Wreath:

Heat the contents of one can of spinach or beet greens, season to taste with lemon juice, butter and salt an pepper, pack tightly in a greased ring mold, and set in a steamer to keep hot. Heat one can of tiny rosebud beets, season with butter and pepper. When ready to serve, turn ring mold of spinach onto a hot, round platter, and pile the beets in the center.

Color Counts

Russian Bortsch: Add two cups finely shredded cabbage, two thinly sliced onions and one sliced potato to two quarts soup stock, and cook until the vegetables are tender. Add one can of tomato soup, salt and pepper to taste, one teaspoon sugar and one tablespoon vinegar. Add the juice of a No. 2 can of beets and also the beets cut in thin match-like strips. Serve with a large spoonful of thick sour cream on each serving. Serves ten.

Statistics show that only one person out of ten escapes having colds, and that the average person will have from one to three colds a year. Scientists have advanced the theory that cold germs cannot thrive in alkaline systemic conditions. WHAT HAS HAPPENED
Mayor Bobby Kingston, undisturbed by the threatened investigation, meets just to show the Civic Reform Committee he is not alarmed at their charges. Instead, he goes to a restaurant with Dorie Doree and has a party for her that evening. Through a clever piece of strategy, he gets rid of her sweetheart, Fred Fields, and the party enjoys dancing to the radio.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
"Dr. Crandall of the Civic Reform Committee made public tonight a message from His Excellency, the Governor, regarding the committee's findings of corruption in the Kingstan administration."

"Hymie was in anguish as he listened to the announcement over the radio. The Mayor smiled. 'I'm listening.'

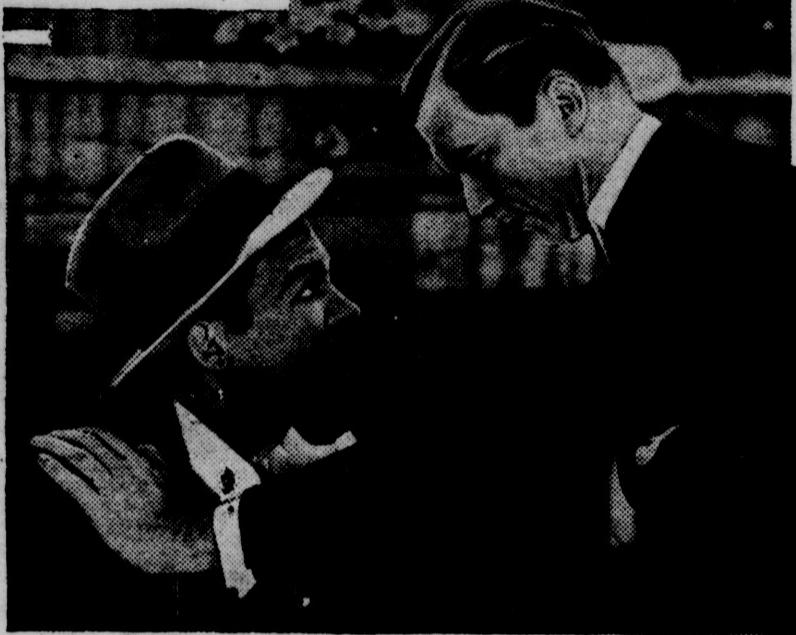

"A telegram reads as follows: 'I have recommended to the State Senate a Legislative investigation of the charges against the Kingstan administration,' signed Edward G. Winslow, Governor. It also announced that the Governor will arrive here from the capital by the end of the week to take over this investigation in person."

"Hymie snapped off the radio. 'What did I tell you?'

The phone rang. Riley answered it. "It's insisted, Fred, pal."

"Tell them everybody's out, including yourself," said Bobby.

The guests clustered around him, suffering man. Mr. Crandall doesn't saying, "Sorry, Bob." "It's a shame, like me, and neither does Mr. Fields."

Phones commenced ringing in all parts of the house. Hymie answered one. "Hello. No this is Shane. We got nothing to say." He slammed the receiver on the hook.

Ran another phone. "Talk on the radio? We ain't even got a radio. We can't afford it. And yeah, besides we got nothing to say."

While Bobby on the third declared, "You've got the wrong number. This is the Society of American Embalmers. That's right. Well, what do you want?"

Hymie turned to the guests. "Scram, all you people. Now get out of here. Bobby and me have got to talk things over." The guests started to leave. Hymie turned to the Mayor. "Shane, the ringing of a phone diverted his attention. "Hello. don't care what you heard and I don't care what you think." He slammed the receiver back on the hook.

"Hello," Bobby answered another call. "No, there'll be no statement. We've got nothing to say."

Doree came up to the Mayor with outstretched hand. "If sympathy means anything—"

"I don't think you won't go yet." He took her hand and remained it.

Riley came up with her wraps. "Hymie said to get the lady's wraps."

"That's very sweet of him," Bobby commented, laying them aside.

Hymie rushed up. "Now, Bobby, for the love of Mike, will you make that dame go home?"

With mock seriousness, Bobby replied. "The Mayor has nothing to do with this. She stays if she wants to and we want to." Then he picked up telephone receiver. "Operator! Operator! Have these phones disconnected at once!"

"Bobby, we've got to talk." Hymie insisted.

The Mayor dismissed him. "Not tonight. Take your own advice and go home." Then turning to Riley, he ordered. "Take all these phones off the hooks and leave them there." With this was being done, the Mayor turned to Doree. "Listen, kid. I'm in a bad mess. There's no use in you being dragged into this."

"When people get in messes, it makes me want to stick to them all the more," she avowed. "I'm a little crazy that way, I guess. Well, what are you looking at?"

Bobby started. "Huh? Oh—oh, those eyelashes. Are they real?"

She laughed. "They're not pasted on. You know I'm in a mess, too. Fred walked out on me."

"Is that a tragedy?"

"Not exactly."

"Are you in love with him?" The Mayor inquired quietly.

"I think I was."

"How about now?"

"Let's don't talk about it, huh?" She came closer to him and smiled.

So they talked a while and Bobby forgot all about the charges and investigation. But the next morning,

ANNUAL SCHOOL FESTIVAL AT BLODGETT, FRIDAY

The fourth annual Harvest Festival will be held at Blodgett High School on Friday, November 17.

This is an event which has proved of interest to all Scott County in past years. The faculty and students of both the grade and high school have been working since school began to make this the most successful festival ever held here.

One of the features this year will be the auction sale of merchandise donated by merchants all the towns in Scott county and spared to make it a success because it is considered the largest community affair of the year.

SCHOOL NEWS
The students of Blodgett High School met last week and formed three literary societies, namely the Paladins, Spartans and Athenians. The following officers were elected:

Paladins—President, Geraldine Sadler; vice-president, Gwendolyn Eubank; secretary, Birdeane Dunehew; treasurer, Eunice Propst; sergeant-at-arms, J. P. Stewart; sponsor, Miss Turner.

Athenians—President, Myra Propst; vice-president, Ella Vessell; secretary, Dorothy Halley; treasurer, Chester Pearman; sergeant-at-arms, Clint Dennis; sponsor, Miss Byars.

Spartans—President, June Cheuning; vice-president, Glenar Clipper; secretary-treasurer, Ruby May Holder; sergeant-at-arms, Eugene Nunnelee; sponsor, Mr. Maples.

At the close of the business meeting the campaign for the Harvest Queen was started, with each society selecting one candidate to represent them in the contest.

The following girls were selected: Athenians—Evelyn Peaman; Spartans, Glenda Clippard; Paladins, Geraldine Sadler.

Mainly through the contribution of the junior and senior classes the high school was able to purchase a 3rd piano for the schools to be placed in the music room for general use of the school.

The first grade pupils made turkeys for the school room. They pasted them on the windows and some were put around the wall. They have three little doll houses in their room, which the children enjoy playing with. They have also made a circus from the Post Toasty boxes. The children seem very proud of their room and of the things they made for it.

For the month of November the second grade will work on an Indian project in which they make a complete study of Indian life. The boys are making bows and arrows, the girls are making Indian tepees for the sand table. There are seven little Indian braves who are doing excellent work in this project. They are: Dwight Rister, Buddy Marshall, Rex Rister, Charles Mayfield, Cecil King, James Minner and Russell Hedrick, the chief.

The departmental plan of organization at the grade school is improving and is proving to be satisfactory from every standpoint. The teachers involved have indicated they are well pleased with this new plan which was introduced this year.

CHARLESTON HIGH TO HAVE BOOSTER DAY OR HOME COMING FRIDAY

Charleston, Nov. 13.—Friday, November 17, has been designated by the Charleston High School as their homecoming day. Supt. A. D. Simpson announced today. Every graduate from Charleston High is urged to attend the football game between the Charleston High Blue Jays and the Poplar Bluff Mules, as it is the last home game for the Jays this season.

Coach Marshall of the Jays stated that the day will be "Booster Day" and that the athletic fund was endeavoring to "come out of the red." Everyone, whether they have passes or not, is urged to buy a ticket, Marshall saying that even he is going to buy one himself. He stated that buying a ticket for one game wouldn't break up anyone.

A pep meeting will be held in the morning at the Charleston High auditorium, a program will be arranged and promised to lend the "real football atmosphere" to the game.

A parade will start at 1:30 p.m., prior to the game and will be composed of the high school band, Pep Club and students and old grads of CHS.

This will be the first homecoming day for Charleston, but will be an annual affair from now on.

GAME AND FISH NEWS

News From Field and Stream

The construction of a wild goose preserve, located on the Hoges Creek arm of the Lake of the Ozarks, near Warsaw, has been completed. A rock dam built near the mouth of Hoges Creek where the stream empties into the lake forms an attractive body of water which is surrounded by 3,000 acres of Benton county's finest bottom land. This land has been planted in wheat, corn, wild rice and celery and there is an abundance of floating smart weed, all of which is choice food for wild fowl and affords them ample privacy for the raising of their young. Great piles of sand and ground mussel shell, necessary to a wild goose diet, have been piled about the preserve. Two hundred Canadian geese have been imported and have been placed with numerous wild ducks in a 10-acre pen, 4 feet high. The decoys' wings have been clipped. G. E. Bailey, keeper of the preserve, estimates there are 10,000 mallards and about forty wild geese in the enclosure. "Absolutely No Hunting" signs have been posted. The preserve is the property of the Union Electric Land-and Development Co.

Abandon All Old Eating Habits For Permanent Weight Control

Dr. Wynne Outlines New Diet Habits To Be Learned To Keep Weight Down

This is the last of a series of articles on weight control by Dr. Wynne.

By Dr. Shirley W. Wynne
Commissioner of Health,
New York City

There is no escaping the fact that weight control, if you have a tendency to get fat, will be a lifetime pursuit. But you can make it easy for yourself by changing your eating habits permanently, so that you can maintain the proper weight level without difficulty.

At the expiration of the diet, curb that impulse to fill up on every rich food in sight, by way of celebration! Stick to the diet until you have developed the habit of abstinenace. Like many another tendency, the desire to eat too much or eat the wrong things is merely a bad habit.

Cornstones of Health

Plan your diet carefully for the first few weeks or months after the reducing period is over—until the habit of eating properly is thoroughly acquired. In preceding articles I have emphasized the importance of the protective foods—milk, leafy vegetables and fruit—in the reducing diet. The diet to be adopted after the reducing or the gaining period is over must contain plentiful supplies of these same foods.

These are the cornerstones of health. They are too little used in today's meals. There is no question but that many of the health troubles of the American people are due to faulty diet—diseases too rich in fats and carbohydrates, too poor in vitamins and mineral salts.

A quart of milk a day is not too much for every adult and child.

Milk, as I have pointed out, is not a "fattening" food, as many people believe. The average milk contains 3 1/4 per cent of butter fat and 4 1/4 per cent of milk sugar. The total calories yielded by a glass of milk (a glass usually holds one-fifth of a quart) are about 150. In addition to milk, every person should have one or two salads of raw leafy vegetables every day, and some fruit.

SLIMMING DIET

Here is the sixth of a series of suggested weight reducing diets prepared for this paper by Dr. Wynne. Each diet provides about 1200 calories daily. Calculate your calories as shown in the first article of this series, and adjust the diet to your needs by taking smaller or larger portions of the food indicated in plain type. Do not change the quantities of the foods in bold-face type. These are the protective foods, and must be taken as indicated.

BREAKFAST

1/2 small cantaloupe (or other melon in season) 50

2 slices of bacon (well done) 75

1 slice toast 50

1 small pat of butter 35

Coffee (milk instead of cream, no sugar) 25

LUNCH

4 stalks of celery stuffed with about 1/2 cake of cream cheese 105

1 slice fresh pineapple or ripe banana or apple 50

1 glass milk 150

DINNER

1/2 cup fresh fruit cocktail 100

1 medium slice roast beef (no fat) 150

1/2 cup mashed potatoes (with milk) 100

1 cup of string beans 50

Lettuce and tomato salad (no dressing) 50

1 glass milk 150

Don't try to reduce too fast. A quarter of a pound a day is enough.

Sprinkle with salt and cover with the thinly sliced onions. Place the second half of spareribs on top. Make a sauce by combining ketchup, tobacco sauce, chili powder, and hot water. Pour this over the meat. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until done, about 2 hours.

Haricot of Lamb

2 pounds lean breast of lamb

2 tablespoons lard

Flour

4 carrots

2 turnips

2 potatoes

2 onions, sliced

1 tablespoon parsley

Dumplings

Salt and pepper

Sugar.

Cut the breast of lamb into pieces suitable for serving. Dredge with flour and brown on all sides in hot lard. Turn into a heavy sauce pan and cover with hot water. Cube the carrots, turnips, potatoes and slice the onion. Brown these in the hot lard after the meat has been removed. Add these to the meat in the kettle, and simmer until meat and vegetables are tender. Season to taste with salt and pepper and a dash of sugar. Thicken the gravy with flour smoothed in cold water if pieces.

MEAT DISHES THAT STRETCH THE BUDGET

Often it is hard to make the food budget stretch out until the end of the month, so here are suggestions for low-priced, yet tasty meat dishes. They are suggested by Mrs. S. Wilson, home economist.

Barbecued Spareribs

2 sets pork spareribs

2 onions, thinly sliced

1-1/2 cup ketchup

1-4 teaspoon tobacco sauce

1-8 teaspoon chili powder

1-1/2 teaspoons salt

1 cup hot water

Place half of the spareribs in the bottom of a baking dish.

TOO MUCH LIGHT

It is practically impossible to have too much light in any home, but it is easy to have too much glare.

Even the feeble light that is produced by a match would hurt your eyes if you held it directly in front of them for any considerable length of time.

Clear sunlight is five hundred times brighter than the light of an electric light, but you never try to read or work with the sun shining directly into your eyes.

Every lamp in your home should be shaded to prevent glare.

Don't make the mistake of trying to get rid of glare by using fewer or smaller lamps.

Plenty of light from properly shaded lamps will add to the attractiveness of your home and bring more comfort into it.

Let us call and tell you how to light your home for eye comfort, as well as for beauty. This service is free.

LAIR STORE NEWS
"That Interesting Store"

HOUSE FURNISHINGS

Our 36 Year in S. E. Mo.

Who needs a fine Moore's Circulator, large size (best they make) that will heat as many as seven rooms? We have an overstock of this particular pattern and are willing to sacrifice profit to clear the floors. Other Moore's models remain the same price as before.

"The largest and best chosen stock of living room furniture in S. E. Mo.;" that's what traveling men say of our assortment and we will add the remark that because of fortunate buying, prices are less than you will expect to pay for dependable goods.

Modernistic styles in bedroom furniture are like other ideas in that some types of it are not so appealing while others capture the taste of those who keep up with the trend of furniture. Look over the showing at our place. Housekeepers of talent tell us it is exceptionally good.

And when it comes to a showing of popular priced axminster and velvet rugs you simply can't go wrong in choosing from present stocks. Floor covering prices have not advanced very much and now seem to be stabilized. Pay for your rugs and linoleums by the week or month if you like.

Sikeston seems to be considered a green field for furniture business. Last week there were four stores and the fifth arrived Saturday when Mr. Wolf of Cape Girardeau cast his hat in the Sikeston ring. His experience added to the usual active advertising campaigns of his company will doubtless attract many more people to Sikeston and among other benefits will serve to keep the balance of us awake and on our toes if we expect to have a "place in the sun." Five furniture stores in Sikeston seem to be a good many and each proprietor probably has a different idea of what should be done about the excess. We have decided however that the buying public will take care of that problem in due course of time without advice or assistance from any of us who are in on the game. In the scramble for business our friends will find our organization alive on styles and market conditions and alert as to first class service. That policy has won for us in the past and will be continued.

The new 1934 Majestic Radio models in modernistic designs are as far ahead of competing brands in appearance as a twelve cylinder car is in advance of a model "T". This is no idle talk but the actual fact as expressed by hundreds of people with good taste. Majestic has again stepped out in front by a wide margin and is very properly termed "THE SMART SET IN RADIO." Pay for them by week or month, if you like.

Aladdin modernistic indirect lamps are the last word in lights of that type. Decks are finished in etched aluminum and when lighted appear to be ground glass. Edges are attractively polished to give contrast and complete the deck effect of modern trend. Gentlemen who wish to give the Better Half something ultra stylish can make no mistake in presenting an Aladdin Indirect Lamp.

THE

EDITOR
SAYS—

The editor attended the revival services at the Baptist Church, Tuesday evening, and remained to hear Dr. McBride, the temperance crusader. Dr. Raeburn, the evangelist, talked so fast that we couldn't keep up, therefore don't know just what it was all about, but having confidence in the sincerity of the brother, we feel certain that what he said was all right. We'll be frank to say that we remained to hear Dr. McBride with the full intention of criticizing, but will be equally as frank in saying we have no criticism to make as he poured it on his dry brethren who failed to turn out and vote dry as they were supposed to be. We didn't agree with all he said, but we are satisfied he knew more about his subject than we did, so will let it go at that.

As old as we are, we are not above looking up and admiring a good clean woman, old or young; but we would much rather they would meet us face to face instead of anonymously.

A Standard representative visited the Radio Department of the Lair Furniture Company Tuesday morning and was surprised to see a display of radios shown by any one firm.

A room has been provided for this department all to itself and on display were 12 different styles of radios, Philco and Majestic, and they ranged in price from $26.50 to $99.50. The shapes, size and finish of these radios should please any one, and each of these 12 varieties is equipped and ready to demonstrate at a moments notice.

Sam Wilcox is in charge of this department and will be glad to have visitors see this display and let him demonstrate any radio carried in stock.

It is an interesting place to visit.

There is said to be a mess of money available from the Government for different sorts of relief work but red tape is likely to bind it up so tight that the necessity will have passed before the money is available.

At Ringling, Okla., the Rev. C. O. Bigbee, Baptist minister, shot and critically wounded C. L. Judson, former mayor and later justice of the peace. It was over a political misunderstanding. The brother didn't believe in turning the other cheek.

We are getting damn tired of some woman writing anonymous letters to us and wish her husband would give her just what she needs. There is nothing "pisen" in the notes, but senseless running off at the pencil.

SHEPPARD CAFE IN NEW QUARTERS SATURDAY

The Sheppard Cafe will be in their new location in the Del Rey Building and ready for business Saturday morning.

The new room has been newly painted and decorated and looks spick and span. The Del Rey dining room will close their doors to the general public at the supper hour Saturday evening, but will operate their hotel for guests who honor them with their presence.

READY TO START PAVING ON SPUR

With all the grading work done and the forms set, the Service Construction Co. has its machinery ready to start paving at any time. The fear of freezing weather is holding up the paving work at present. If the weather should show a change for the warmer the paving work would begin immediately. It is estimated that about 15 days would be required to finish the paving of the spur.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED FOR RUSSELL-BRADLEY

The Russell-Bradley Missionary Society of the local Methodist church held its meeting on Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. H. L. Smith, with Mrs. Leonard McMullin and Mrs. Ralph Anderson, assistant hostesses.

Election of officers was held, the following being elected:

President, Mrs. Margaret Harper; vice-president, Mrs. J. M. Pitman; recording secretary, Mrs. Harry Dudley; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Pete Renner; treasurer, Mrs. T. C. Old; flower fund, Mrs. Loomis Mayfield; publicity superintendent, Mrs. C. E. Felker; missionary study, Mrs. L. R. Burns.

The newly elected officers will take up their duties in January, 1934.

A report on the missionary book was given by Mrs. Harry Dudley.

Mrs. L. R. Burns and Mrs. James Matthews will be the hostesses for the December meeting.

The Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church will hold its monthly meeting at the church on next Thursday afternoon, November 23. All circles will take a part on the program, and will begin immediately after the State Highway Commission.

If, however, this cannot be done, it is still possible for counties and cities to obtain 30 per cent of the cost of labor and materials by making application through the State Advisory Board, 219 Buder Building, St. Louis, Mo.

It is urged that all counties and cities having funds available or that may soon become available for highway or street improvement, communicate immediately with Hugh Miller, state engineer, Public Works Administration, who is executive officer of the State Advisory Board.

The first class of the Leadership Training School, being conducted in the local Nazarene Church, with Rev. C. F. Transue as teacher, was held Wednesday evening of this week, with a total enrollment of 41 students. Classes in this course will be held on Wednesday evening of each week.

Alleged Negro
Uprising Blocked
In Louisiana

Farmerville, La., Nov. 14.—The thwarting of a planned "upgraders" who had promised them government lands, free food and social equality was reported by authorities here yesterday after the arrest of 14 Negroes and seizure of an automobile load of arms and ammunition.

Officers said the organizers had dropped out of sight but that they were being sought by citizens and officers in North Louisiana and South Arkansas.

Three Negro members of a "secret society" which had been formed among the Negro residents of the section informed officers that the "uprising" had been set for Sunday, with a march on Farmerville. The roundup of reputed leaders followed.

In view of intense local feeling, a heavy guard was maintained about the Farmerville jail, where the 14 Negroes were held.

AGED LAFORGE MAN DIED FRIDAY MORNING

New Madrid, Mo., Nov. 14.—Leonard Scott, age 79 years, died at his home near LaForge, Friday morning at 5:00 o'clock of carcinoma. Mr. Scott had lived in this community practically all his life and was known and liked throughout the community.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at his home with Richards Undertaking Company in charge. Burial was in the Dawson cemetery.

Mr. Scott lived alone, his wife having died several years ago. He is survived by two sons—Fred of Lilburn and Clay of New Madrid, also several grandchildren.

Wondering If New U. S.
Marshall Will Be In Soon

St. Louis, Nov. 15.—United States Marshal T. W. Hukriede, when asked about reports Attorney General Cummings has requested his resignation, last night said he had not previously heard of such a move on the part of the Attorney General.

"This is the first I have heard of my resignation being requested," he said. "I have not received any communication to that effect from Attorney General Cummings. Neither have I heard any reasons for such a reported request. My term of office does not expire until January, 1935."

Hukriede's friends say the marshal heard last October United States Senator Clark was desirous of naming a successor to his post, but that Hukriede is determined not to resign and to oppose any move to oust him.

St. Louis politicians have heard reports Tom Scott, deputy warden of the state penitentiary at Jefferson City, has been slated for the job of marshal, but Sen. Clark in Washington, has intimated there is nothing definite at this time on political appointments in St. Louis.

Friends of Tom Scott in Cape Girardeau say that his appointment as U. S. marshal will depend upon from what section of the state the appointee for U. S. district attorney comes.

Harry C. Blanton of Sikeston and R. F. Baynes of New Madrid are the outstanding candidates from this section for the district attorney's post, and it is certain if either is appointed from this district Mr. Scott will not get the marshal's position.

However, another strong competitor for the district attorney's job comes from Northwest Missouri and if he should be appointed, it is likely Mr. Scott would be the marshal's office. In no case, it is claimed, will both jobs be filled from the same district—Cape Missourian.

Highway Building Projects Planned

Washington, Nov. 13.—In a underdrains, constructing cobble gutters, fencing the right-of-way, walls, surfacing and resurfacing roads, today characterized the new $400,000 civil work fund as means for holding back the line of unemployment this winter until major projects under the $5,000,000 Public Works Administration can get fully under way.

Addressing the Governors of 20 states, the Mayors of 150 cities and more than 200 other officials, gathered as a relief convention, he told of plans aimed to hire 4,000,000 men until February 1 through allotments under the $400,000 fund.

Harry L. Hopkins, the Civil Works Administrator, previously had urged that relief funds be used to pay actual wages for work done in addition to this sum.

Officials crowded in one of the main dining rooms of the Hotel Mayflower applauded both Ickes and Hopkins. They will meet with President Roosevelt at the White House during the late afternoon.

"We intend to go through with this regardless," Hopkins told the officials. "I do not anticipate that anyone will endeavor to inject politics of personal gain into the plan. We do not intend to tolerate such."

The Proposed Wages

Hopkins set minimum wages under his fund for three subdivisions of the country. These provide that unskilled labor in the Southern zone shall be paid not less than 40 cents with a 45-cent minimum in the Central zone and 50 cents in the North.

Skilled labor which may be necessary on the projects will be paid $1 an hour in the Southern zone, $1.10 in the Central zone and $1.20 in the North.

For purposes of determining wage rates, Hopkins, the Civil Works Administrator, outlined the three zones as follows:

Southern—South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Arizona, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico.

Central—Delaware, Tennessee, Maryland, Virginia, Colorado, California, Utah, North Carolina, West Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas, Nevada, Nebraska and the District of Columbia.

Northern—Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, New York, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska, Wyoming, Oregon, South Dakota, Idaho, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, North Dakota, Montana, and Washington.

Negro Man Killed
By Fall From Tree

New Madrid, Nov. 14.—Pete Henderson, colored, age 48, fell from a pecan tree Saturday morning while gathering pecans and died immediately. The incident occurred near New Madrid as he was gathering pecans for some white people. He had only climbed to a short distance up in the tree when he fell. The white people for whom he was gathering the nuts ran to him and found he was dead. Dr. W. L. Dugges was called and the cause of death was not positively known but after examination death was thought to have been due to an injury of the brain and neck.

Cunningham represents the Southeastern District of Missouri. The Board consists of six members one from each of the districts of the State.

Carl Burris, formerly representative from this district, has been re-elected to the Board, this time from the newly formed St. Louis district. The former practice of electing a delegate at large was eliminated and the St. Louis district formed in its stead.

Carr Cunningham's numerous friends will be pleased to learn of this honor bestowed upon him by the Teachers Association.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS FROM PARIS APPEAL

Well, goodby to prohibition. It was a failure in every way except one, which was as a goot for all the sins this nation committed during its fitful career.

The beer business, like the old gray mare, is not what it used to be. This may be due in part to a popular conviction that the price is too high and the quality too low.

There is another unfortunate thing about the legislature. It is an oversupply of friends of the farmer and undersupply of farmers themselves. This, however, is the fault of the farmer. He wants none but town men to represent him just for the fun of the thing.

WASHINGTON CURRENT COMMENT

More pressing problems at home have put the foreign war debt matter somewhat into the background. With this attitude of relaxation in the United States, violent comment in England has ceased, as might be expected, especially in view of the fact that the British government has left debt payments out of its budget computations. By the middle of December, another payment will be due. The English and American representatives have come to no agreement respecting the payment of the corpus of the debt, but it appears that before Christmas, Uncle Sam will receive a few millions on account, just to keep the debt good and to avoid a complete default on the part of the debtor. After this there will be more conferences, no doubt. The British war debt is neither very much alive nor completely dead. The situation is such that both sides will probably be contented. At least they will have to be. England is not being pressed. The United States at least has the small satisfaction of knowing that England does not contemplate a complete default and repudiation.

We suggest a school of instruction for the millionaire newspapermen, the captains of industry and leaders of high finance. Unless they can be made to see that the old order, with its oppression, graft and indifference to obligation, has passed, the pillars of their capitalistic temple will be torn away and they will perish amid the rubbish. The people are in an ugly mood. They become more resentful every day at efforts the big interests direct against Roosevelt's efforts to inaugurate a new deal. If this resentment gets beyond restraint in this country, as it did in Russia,

These Beets Behave

HAVE you ever had the experience of buying fresh beets in the market and having them lose their flavor and color when you cooked them, so that you found yourself serving sickly, tasteless pink beets? There is a way in which you can be sure that your beets will not go back on you, and that is by buying them in cans.

Color Counts

For the beets put up in sanitary enamel lined cans always keep their color and flavor, when heated, because they were picked at the moment of prime ripeness and the oxygen was exhausted from them before they were canned. Diced in pieces, sliced or whole, all canned beets can be counted upon to present just as good an appearance as the pampered and more expensive tiny rosebud beets used in the following recipe.

Serves ten.

Vegetable Wreath: Heat the contents of one can of spinach or beet greens, season to taste with lemon juice, butter and salt and pepper, pack tightly in a greased ring mold, and set in a steamer to keep hot. Heat one can of tiny rosebud beets, season with butter, salt and pepper. When ready to serve, turn ring mold of spinach out onto a hot, round platter, and pile the beets in the center.

Russian Bortsch: Add two cups finely shredded cabbage, two thinly sliced onions and one sliced potato to two quarts soup stock, and cook until the vegetables are tender. Add one can of tomato soup, salt and pepper to taste, one teaspoon sugar and one tablespoon vinegar. Add the juice of a No. 2 can of beets and allow the beets to boil in thin match-like strips. Serve with a large spoonful of thick sour cream on each serving.

Having thus taken a fling at Italy, one may properly ponder how that country differs from any other in the respect.

However, this department probably understands that if the same dog treed two coons in any one season, he would be a wonder, especially in New Hampshire. Again just what should a fellow do that hunts with three or four coon hounds in a pack, as many do?

Would the coons be proportioned to each hound, or would each individual be charged under this coon dog NRA business, with catching every coon and laid off so he would not be working over time and make room for more dogs to have a coon-job?

Anyway it gives another coon dog a chance to earn his "cornbread and cracklins." This code needs explaining a little and it is going to be referred to Chief Clerk Preston of the Missouri Fish & Game Department.

ONLY ONE OUT OF TEN PERSONS ESCAPE COLDS

Statistics show that only one person out of ten escapes having colds, and that the average person will have from one to three colds a year. Scientists have advanced the theory that cold germs cannot thrive in alkaline systemic conditions. A solution to this situation has been found in the discovery of The Alkels Company of St. Louis who have compounded a preparation called Alkels that give the system the proper amount of alkalinity to throw off colds.

having completely done away with the old idea of quinine and have combined this powerful alkalizing drug with five other well known ingredients and are having sensational success in killing colds and in an amazingly short time. See their advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

It looks like a fine piece of business for the Automobile Club of Missouri, if they succeed in getting a flat rate on all automobile licenses of $10 per year. Their members riding around in from two to six thousand dollar cars surely would feel all stuck up paying the same fee that Mr. Farmer would pay on his 1920 Model T that he hauls his few chickens, and some butter and eggs to market in. One travels over about all of the highways in the state and the other over five or six miles of muddy road from his home to town and back. Yep, equality is a fine thing. All should pay alike, except those able to pay, and the most of them pay—like hell?

There are fifty cars within ten miles of LaPlata that would not bring $10 each, yet they serve for the butter and egg hauling through the same muddy farm-to-market roads that this same Automobile Club was going to lift right out of the mud, as soon as they got the $75,000,000 bonds voted. This flat rate of $10.00 would take 50 cents from the Model T, and from five to twenty dollars from the high priced car fees.—LaPlata Home Press.

At 18, Stroud killed a man in a quarrel about a "dance-hall queen" in Alaska. Sent to McNeill's Island prison, he stabbed and killed a guard. Moved to Leavenworth, he celebrated St. Patrick's day, 1916, by stabbing another guard to death with a knife that he had made. Three times he was sentenced to death and escaped execution. The third time his mother persuaded President Wilson to commute his sentence two days before the hanging.—Arthur Brisbane.

NOVELIZATION BY ARRANGEMENT WITH COLUMBIA PICTURES

WHAT HAS HAPPENED

Mayor Bobby Kingston was disturbed by a threatened investigation committee attending a Board of Estimate meeting just to show the Civic Reform Committee he is not alarmed at their charges. Instead, he goes to the heart of the Polites, whom he's interested with Doree Dawn and stages a party for her that evening. Through a clever piece of strategy, he gets rid of her sweetheart, Fred Fields, and the party enjoys dancing to the radio.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"Dr. Crandall of the Civic Reform Committee made public tonight a message from His Excellency, the Governor, regarding the committee's findings of corruption in the Kingston administration."

Hymie was in anguish as he listened to the announcement over the radio. The Mayor smiled. "I'm listening."

"The telegram reads as follows: I have recommended to the State Senate a legislative investigation of the charges against the Kingston administration," signed Edward G. Walslow, Governor. It also announced that the Governor will arrive here from the capital by end of the week to take over this investigation in person."

Hymie snapped off the radio. "What did I tell you?"

The phone rang. Riley answered it. "Associated Press, pal."

"Tell them everybody's out, including yourself," said Bobby.

The guests clustered around him, suffering man. Mr. Crandall doesn't saying, "Sorry, Bob," "It's a shame, like me, and neither does Mr. Fields."

Phones commenced ringing in all parts of the house. Hymie answered one. "Hello. No this is Shane. We got nothing to say." He slammed the receiver on the hook.

Riley at another phone, "Talk on the radio. We ain't even got a radio. We can't afford one. And years besides we got nothing to say."

While Bobby on the third declared, "You've got the wrong number. It is the Society of American Embalmers. That's right. Well, what do you want?"

Hymie turned to the guests. "Scram, all you people. Now get out of here. Bobby and I have got to talk things over." The guests started to leave. Hymie turned to the Mayor, but the ringing of a phone diverted his attention. "Hello. I don't care what you heard and I don't care what you think." He slammed the receiver back on the hook.

"Hello," Bobby answered another call. "This can't be no statement. We've got nothing to say."

Doree came up to the Mayor with outstretched hand. "If sympathy means anything—"

"If it does, you won't go yet." He took her hand and retained it.

Riley came up with her wraps. "Hymie said to get the lady's wraps."

That's very sweet of him," Bobby remarked, looking them aside.

Hymie rushed up. "Now, Bobby, for the love of Mike, will you make that dame go home?"

With mock seriousness, Bobby replied. "The Mayor has nothing to say. She stays if she wants to and we wants to." Then he picked up telephone receiver. "Operator! Operator! Have these phones disconnected at once."

"Bobby, we've got to talk," Hymie insisted.

The Mayor dismissed him. "Not tonight. Take your own advice and go home." Then turning to Riley, he ordered, "Take all these phones off the hooks and leave them there." While this was being done, the Mayor turned to Doree. "Listen, kid. I'm in a bindress. There's no use in your being dressed into this."

"When people are in bindresses, it makes me want to stick to them all the more," she avowed. "I'm a little crazy that way, I guess. Well, what are you looking at?"

Bobby started. "Huh? Oh—oh, those eyelashes are real real?"

She laughed. "They're not pasted on. You know I'm in a mess, too. Fred walked out on me."

"Is that a tragedy?"

"Not exactly."

"Are you in love with him?" The Mayor inquired quietly.

"I think I was."

"How about now?"

"Let's don't talk about it, huh."

She came closer to him and smiled.

So they talked a while and Bobby forgot all about the charges and investigation. But the next morning,

ANNUAL SCHOOL FESTIVAL AT BLODGETT, FRIDAY

The fourth annual Harvest Festival will be held at Blodgett High School on Friday, November 17.

This is an event which has proved of interest to all Scott County in past years. The faculty and students of both the grade and high school have been working since school began to make this the most successful festival ever held here.

One of the features this year will be the auction sale of merchandise donated by merchants all the towns in Scott county and the town of Cape Girardeau and Charleston.

The carnival with all the side shows and special attractions will be larger this year. The students and organizations in the school will have the usual array of eat stands and amusement booths.

In addition to the entertainment devices there will be exhibits including work from both schools in Blodgett.

In the evening a pageant of folk songs and characters will be presented on the school grounds.

Preparations are being made to accommodate a larger crowd than has ever before attended the Harvest Festival. No energy is being wasted on the part of the officers of the Association.

He always got in trouble among the ladies. Malone Theatre, Sunday and Monday.

spared to make it a success because it is considered the largest community affair of the year.

School News
The students of Blodgett High School met last week and formed three literary societies, namely the Paladians, Spartans and Athenians. The following officers were elected:

Paladians—President, Geraldine Sadler; vice-president, Gwendolyn Eubank; secretary, Birdie Dunehow; treasurer, Eunice Propst; sergeant-at-arms, J. P. Stewart; sponsor, Miss Turner.

Athenians—President, Myra Propst; vice-president, Ella Vessell; secretary, Dorothy Halley; treasurer, Chester Pearman; sergeant-at-arms, Clint Dennis; sponsor, Miss Byars.

Spartans—President, June Chewning; vice-president, Glenar Clipper; secretary-treasurer, Ruby May Holder; sergeant-at-arms, Eugene Nunnelee; sponsor, Mr. Maples.

At the close of the business meeting the campaign for the Harvest Queen was started, with each society selecting one candidate to represent them in the contest.

The following girls were selected: Athenians—Evelyn Pearman; Spartans, Glenda Clipper; Paladians, Geraldine Sadler.

Mainly through the contribution of the junior and senior classes the high school was able to purchase 3rd piano for the school to be placed in the music room for general use of the school.

The first grade pupils made turkeys for the school room. They pasted them on the windows and some were put around the wall. They have three little doll houses in their room, which the children enjoy playing with. They have also made a circus from the Post Toasty boxes. The children seem very proud of their room and of the things they made for it.

For the month of November the second grade will work on an Indian project in which they make a complete study of Indian life. The boys are making bows and arrows, the girls are making Indian tepees for the sand table. There are seven little Indian braves who are doing excellent work in this project. They are: Dwight Rister, Buddy Marshall, Rex Rister, Charles Mayfield, Cecil King, James Minner and Russell Hendrick, the chief.

The departmental plan of organization at the grade school is improving and is proving to be satisfactory from every standpoint. The teachers involved have indicated they are well pleased with this new plan which was introduced this year.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Atkins motored to St. Louis where they were guests of the bride's sisters, Misses Lola and Leone Horton for a few days. They are now at home at 305 North Heggie Street in his city.

RUMMAGE SALE

The Ebert-Kreedy Missionary Society of the local Methodist Church will hold a rummage sale on Saturday, November 18, in the Peoples Bank Building.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

For thirty-five years, the Church of the Nazarene has carried forward an ever-growing foreign missions plan and program, the Rev. C. F. Transue, pastor of the local Church of the Nazarene, declared in announcing the Fourth Silver Jubilee Anniversary celebration for Sunday.

First missionary work dates back to 1898, ten years before the general assembly at Pilot Point, Texas, at which the merger of the Holiness Church of Christ, the Pentecostal Churches of America with the Nazarene church was ratified.

It is this union that the church now is celebrating as its 25th birthday anniversary.

After the founding of the first Nazarene church in 1895 at Los Angeles by the late Dr. P. F. Bresee, the work of the little church grew until the call to foreign lands became imperative and missionaries were dispatched to Western India in 1898. Other fields were entered—Cape Verde Islands in 1901; Mexico in 1903; Guatemala 1904 and Eastern India in 1905. The word also was carried to Japan, Africa, China, Peru, Argentina, Palestine, Syria and the British West Indies in later years.

Approximately 12,000 converts have entered the Christian life of the Nazarene church in foreign countries, whose general rules include forbidding tobacco and liquor in any form, keeping the Sabbath holy, avoiding immodest dress, the theatre, dancing, circus or other shows, or gambling. Members also must relinquish any membership they may have in secret societies or associations.

The church has seventy-two missionaries in the field and 300 native workers. Two hospitals are maintained in foreign lands, Bresee hospital in China and Raleigh-Fitzkin Memorial hospital in Africa. Another hospital is located at Nampa, Idaho, and Rest Cottages at Pilot Point and Kansas City.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society, organized in 1915, now has about 36,000 members, all engaged in studying mission problems. This organization raises about $135,000 a year to carry on this work.

The last three years brought about a reduction in revenues, naturally, yet the Nazarene church has held its own in the foreign fields. At home, prayer and fasting leagues have been organized in many localities. The purpose of these leagues is to replace lost revenue by having members contribute the cost of one meal each week, which they go without, to mission work.

Besides hospitals in China and Africa, the Church of the Nazarene has begun similar institutions in India and Guatemala, awaiting only a better financial situation. The hospital in India would be devoted to the care of girls and women, who are without proper medical attendance. In both countries, much of the necessary preliminary work has already been done. Dr. J. G. Morrison, Kansas City, is foreign missions secretary for the church.

by the Charleston High School as Simpson announced today. Every graduate from Charleston High is urged to attend the football game between the Charleston High Blue

Jays and the Poplar Bluff Mules, as it is the last home game for Coach Marshall of the Jays stated that the day will be "Booster Day" and that the athletic fund was endeavoring to "come out of the red." Everyone, whether they have passes or not, is urged to buy a ticket, Marshall saying that even he is going to buy one him-

A pep meeting will be held in the morning at the Charleston High auditorium, a program will be arranged and promised to lend the "real football atmosphere" to the game.

A parade will start at 1:30 p.m., prior to the game and will be composed of the high school band, Pep Club and students and old grade of CHS.

GAME AND FISH NEWS

News From Field and Stream

The construction of a wild goose preserve, located on the Hogles Creek arm of the Lake of the Ozarks, near Warsaw, has been completed. A rock dam built near the mouth of Hogles Creek where the stream empties into the lake forms an attractive body of water that is surrounded by 3,000 acres of Benton county's finest bottom land. This land has been planted in wheat, corn, wild rice and celery and there is an abundance of floating smart weed, all of which is choice food for wild fowl and affords them ample privacy for the raising of their young. Great piles of sand and ground mussel shell, necessary to a wild goose diet, have been piled about the preserve. Two hundred Canadian geese have been imported and have been placed with numerous wild ducks in a 10-acre pen, 4 feet high. The decoys' wings have been clipped. G. E. Bailey, keeper of the preserve, estimates there are 10,000 mallards and about forty wild geese on the enclosure. "Absolutely No Hunting" signs have been posted. The preserve is the property of the Union Electric Land-and Development Co.

Abandon All Old Eating Habits For Permanent Weight Control

Dr. Wynne Outlines New Diet Habits To Be Learned To Keep Weight Down

This is the last of a series of articles on weight control by Dr. Wynne.

By Dr. Shirley W. Wynne
Commissioner of Health,
New York City

Right now is the time to catch crappie, says the Isaac Walton Scribe. Fall fishing for crappie is always good when the water is fresh and clear. You will always find the most crappie in sluggish water containing drift wood, sunken tree trunks, stumps and logs, in fairly deep water provided you are fishing on the lower stretches of spring-fed streams. The crappie, like the large-mouth bass, prefers the quiet mud bottom pool to the sand and gravel bottom where there is running water.

The creation of an "angler's paradise" for youngsters, has taken place at Siloam Gardens in Excelsior Springs. Last week about 25,000 fish, mostly catfish, measuring between two and six inches, were placed in the stream above the tunnel dam.

Fishing is quiet at present on the Sac-Osage Lake at Osceola. Dr. Riley reports. The river is low but in good condition for bass and crappie.

"Fish of Missouri Waters, their description, habitat and habits," is the title of a new bulletin just issued by Dr. G. B. Herndon, chief of hatcheries, for the Game & Fish Department. Copie of the bulletin may be had upon request.

To Remove Foresty Restrictions

The first bill to be passed in the special session of the Missouri Legislature received an almost unanimous vote in the lower House last Thursday. It concerns the removal of restrictions on the number of acres that may be acquired by the Federal Government for forestry purposes. The present limit is 25,000 acres to the county.

The money for the purchase of lands under the measure would be used for school purposes in the districts where the land is taken by the government.

Five hundred forestry experts are now listing and valuing lands in the national forest areas in the Ozarks. In addition, there are ten examiners working under the rangers in the appraisal of land offered for sale. To date about 120,000 acres have been offered at prices ranging from $1.50 to $2.50 per acre. Most of the land is in the Fristoe and Clark units, in Carter, Shannon, Oregon and Ripley counties, and in Crawford, Dent, Washington, Iron and Reynolds counties.

The units in which no large amounts of land have been offered are in the Gasconade unit, in Phelps, Pulaski, Lacled, Wright and Texas counties, and the pond unit, Douglas, Christian, Ozark and Taney counties. The purchase of Federal Forestry lands in Missouri is in charge of S. D. Anderson, regional forest inspector, who is temporarily in charge of the work in the State pending the arrival of L. S. Bean. Headquarters are maintained at Rolla.

HELP YOURSELF AND THE STATE

The more we use of Missouri products the more Missouri payrolls we help to maintain is the major idea carried in an intensive advertising campaign being carried on by the State Chamber of Commerce during the month of October.

In five hundred newspapers of the state, a series of four large ads are being carried, one each week, $12,500 worth of space being used in the interest of Missouri industries and keeping Missouri men at work.

In this intensive method of calling attention to the importance of supporting Missouri business, the state chamber also throws its resources and influence into the national industrial recovery program, thus working consistently

Often it is hard to make the food budget stretch out until the end of the month, so here are suggestions for low-priced, yet tasty meat dishes. They are suggested by Inez S. Wilson, home economist.

Barbecued Spareribs

2 sets pork spareribs
2 onions, thinly sliced
1-2 cup ketchup
1-4 teaspoon tobacco sauce
1-8 teaspoon chili powder
1-1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 cup hot water

Place half of the spareribs in the bottom of a baking dish.

TOO MUCH LIGHT

It is practically impossible to have too much light in any home, but it is easy to have too much glare.

Even the feeble light that is produced by a match would hurt your eyes if you held it directly in front of them for any considerable length of time.

Clear sunlight is five hundred times brighter than the light of an electric light, but you never try to read or work with the sun shining directly into your eyes.

Every lamp in your home should be shaded to prevent glare.

Don't make the mistake of trying to get rid of glare by using fewer or smaller lamps.

Plenty of light from properly shaded lamps will add to the attractiveness of your home and bring more comfort into it.

Let us call and tell you how to light your home for eye comfort, as well as for beauty. This service is free.

HOUSE FURNISHINGS

Our 36 Year in S. E. Mo.

Who needs a fine Moore's Circulator, large size (best they make) that will heat as many as seven rooms? We have an overstock of this particular pattern and are willing to sacrifice profit to clear the floors. Other Moore's models remain the same price as before.

"The largest and best chosen stock of living room furniture in S. E. Mo." that's what traveling men say of our assortment and we will add the remark that because of fortunate buying, prices are less than you will expect to pay for dependable goods.

Modernistic styles in bedroom furniture are like other ideas in that some types of it are not so appealing while others capture the taste of those who keep up with the trend of furniture. Look over the showing at our place. Housekeepers of talent tell us it is exceptionally good.

And when it comes to a showing of popular priced axminster and velvet rugs you simply can't go wrong in choosing from present stocks. Floor covering prices have not advanced very much and now seem to be stabilized. Pay for your rugs and linoleums by the week or month if you like.

Sikeston seems to be considered a green field for furniture business. Last week there were four stores and the fifth arrived Saturday when Mr. Wolf of Cape Girardeau cast his hat in the Sikeston ring. His experience added to the usual active advertising campaigns of his company will doubtless attract many more people to Sikeston and among other benefits will serve to keep the balance of us awake and on our toes if we expect to have a "place in the sun." Five furniture stores in Sikeston seem to be a good many and each proprietor probably has a different idea of what should be done about the excess. We have decided however that the buying public will take care of that problem in due course of time without advice or assistance from any of us who are in on the game. In the scramble for business our friends will find our organization alive on styles and market conditions and alert as to first class service. That policy has won for us in the past and will be continued.

The new 1934 Majestic Radio models in modernistic designs are as far ahead of competing brands in appearance as a twelve cylinder car is in advance of a model "T." This is no idle talk but the actual fact as expressed by hundreds of people with good taste. Majestic has again stepped out in front by a wide margin and is very properly termed "THE SMART SET IN RADIO." Pay for them by week or month, if you like.

Aladdin modernistic indirect lamps are the last word in lights of that type. Decks are finished in etched aluminum and when lighted appear to be ground glass. Edges are attractively polished to give contrast and complete the deck effect of modern trend. Gentlemen who wish to give the Better Half something ultra stylish can make no mistake in presenting an Aladdin Indirect Lamp.
